Portrait photography

Relaxed informal portraits, and formal corporate photography.

A good portrait photographer should always reflect the personality of the sitter. Our relaxed style produces candid and animated photographs.

We can cater for the studio and location requirements of corporate and fashion portraiture, family photography (including young children and babies), headshots for actor's portfolios and capturing special occasions such as engagements and family events.

We also offer commercial portraiture and services for companies needing pictures for promotions, marketing, websites and annual reports.

Studio quality headshots can be taken at your offices quickly and with the minimum of fuss. A plain background can be supplied at no extra charge, available in a variety of colours, or you may prefer to use your own office as the backdrop.

We can also come to you. If deadlines are tight you can have your images back within 24 hours.

With packages starting from £50.00, for studio and location sessions.
